Welcome back to school!

Whether you are a returning or a new student, your teachers, principal and I are happy to see you. We know you will contribute your ideas and energy to make your school a really great place to make friends, grow, and learn.

As your Superintendent, I serve as the education leader for all the public schools in the Windham Central Supervisory Union. This includes Brookline, Dover, Jamaica, Leland and Gray, Marlboro, Newfane, Towshend, Wardsboro, and Windham. That's a lot of schools and a great number of students, but it would be my pleasure to meet you. If you see a tall visitor in your school and he has a short gray beard and a colorful tie, it's probably me. Please take a moment to say "hi" and shake my hand. I'd love to get to know you.

Your teachers and principal have been working together to plan your classes, field trips and co-curricular activities for the year. These school experiences will present you with many opportunities and challenges to learn even more than you did last year. If you get stuck, or frustrated with any of your schoolwork, make sure you speak with your parents, teachers or principal. Our job is to help you succeed.

On behalf of all your teachers and the many supporting staff who will work every day to help you learn, we wish you all the very best for a successful school year.
